

NHS

Great Ormond Street
Hospital for Children
NHS Foundation Trust

UCL GREAT ORMOND STREET
INSTITUTE OF CHILD HEALTH

Lewis Spitz & Edward M Kiely Symposium

and the

72nd Simpson Smith Memorial Lecture

Thursday
19 November 2020
13:00 – 18:00

CLICK HERE
to register for this webinar

This years symposium will now be run virtually. Please register to receive the webinar details.

Moderator S Blackburn/K Cross

13:00 - 13:30	Introduction – L Spitz Controversies in Lower GI Paediatric Surgery Simon Kenny, Alder Hey Children’s Hospital, Liverpool, UK Advantages of Transanal Pull-Through for Hirschsprung’s Disease.	Hirschsprung
13:30 - 14:00	Ian Sugarman, Leeds Children’s Hospital, UK Advantages of Duhamel Pull-Through for Hirschsprung’s Disease.
14:00 - 14:30	Andrea Bischoff, Children’s Hospital Colorado, Denver, CO, USA Advantages of Posterior sagittal anorectoplasty (PSARP) for the repair of congenital anorectal malformations.	ARM
14:30 - 15:00	Long Li, Capital Institute of Paediatrics, Beijing, China. Laparoscopic surgical technique for the repair of congenital anorectal malformations.
15:00 - 15:45	Abraham Cherian, Paediatric Urology, GOSH, London, UK Joseph Curry, Specialist Neonatal and Paediatric Surgery, GOSH, London, UK Advantages of Centralising the Cloaca Service	Cloaca
15:45 - 16:00	Coffee Break

Moderator S Eaton/D Mullasery

16:00 - 16:30	Conor McCann, University College London Enteric neural stem cell therapies for enteric neuropathies.	Future
16:30 - 17:00	Paolo De Coppi, UCL/Specialist Neonatal and Paediatric Surgery, GOSH, London, UK Bowel Tissue Engineering.
17:00 - 18:00	Introduction – E Kiely 72nd Simpson Smith Memorial Lecture: Professor Paul Tam Kwong-Hang JP, University of Hong Kong (HKU) Precision and Regenerative Medicine for Hirschsprung’s disease, myth or reality?	